

BORDEAUX WOMEN ANGELS OF MERCY TO WOUNDED FOES

While They Care for All War Stricken, Their Solicitude for the Germans Wins Wide Commendation.

LONDON, Oct. 9. The naval hero of England today is Lieutenant Commander Max K. Horton, commander of the British submarine E-9, who has added to his laurels by making a raid into German waters and sinking a German torpedoed destroyer off the mouth of the River Ems.

When the E-9 returned to Harwich harbor yesterday she flew two flags bearing a skull and cross-bones, signifying that she had been successful on her dash into German waters.

Members of the crew of the E-9 have given the following details of the triumph which was achieved on Tuesday: The E-9 ventured into the midst of a German fleet, keeping watch for an opportunity to make an attack upon a detached ship. One of the German torpedoed destroyers, steaming very slowly, was the target.

The English believe that this is only the beginning of a series of raids in the English Channel by the E-9 and other submarines Aboukir, Cressy and Hogue by the Germans.

VISIONS OF SAUERKRAUT SAVED A CABBAGE PATCH

Little Termonde Garden Intact Amid Desolation, Ostend Reports. The systematic way in which the Germans of Termonde was destroyed by the Germans, who three captured and abandoned it, is shown by the notices posted in various places in which the word "warning" is written in German.

"GENTLEMAN" MAY MEAN "RUFFIAN" IN GERMANY

Society Plans to Suppress All Other English Words. Symptomatic of the "Germanization" of the English language has been formed at Hamburg, where the English daily communicates in the press. It proposes, among other reforms, that the word "gentleman" be retained in the vocabulary, but that the word "ruffian" be changed to signify "forwardly ruffian."

SCANDINAVIAN NEWS BUREAU EXCITES PARIS PAPER'S EDITOR

The news bureau established in Berlin by Bjorn Bjornson, for the purpose of furnishing the Scandinavian countries with authentic information concerning the war has naturally excited the ire of French papers.

SINKING OF GERMAN SHIP WINS LAURELS FOR BRITISH CREW

Commander of Submarine E-9 and Men Are Popular Heroes for Destroying Cruiser on Foe's Coast.

LONDON, Oct. 9. The naval hero of England today is Lieutenant Commander Max K. Horton, commander of the British submarine E-9, who has added to his laurels by making a raid into German waters and sinking a German torpedoed destroyer off the mouth of the River Ems.

When the E-9 returned to Harwich harbor yesterday she flew two flags bearing a skull and cross-bones, signifying that she had been successful on her dash into German waters.

Members of the crew of the E-9 have given the following details of the triumph which was achieved on Tuesday: The E-9 ventured into the midst of a German fleet, keeping watch for an opportunity to make an attack upon a detached ship.

The English believe that this is only the beginning of a series of raids in the English Channel by the E-9 and other submarines Aboukir, Cressy and Hogue by the Germans.

"CIGARETTE" COUGH ALMOST BETRAYED FUGITIVE BRITONS

Corporal's Throat Trouble Threatened Capture During Flight With Lieutenant Through German Lines.

LONDON, Oct. 9. Lieutenant Frederick Drake, of the Eleventh Hussars, who has returned to his home at St. Albans, describes his escape from a district infested with German soldiers.

"We used to fight all day," he says, "and trenches all night. We had no sleep at all; we never shut our eyes. The first of our fellows to be shot was the doctor and his orderly. They were binding up a man who had been wounded, and the Germans came up with their rifles and shot him dead. It is no use throwing up your hands. It is best to shoot and the trust to luck."

Maximum Heat Minimum Cost

No Smoke Buy Reading and Reading Coal & Iron Company General Office, Reading Terminal

Notice to Tax payers

City and School Taxes, for 1914, paid in October bear a penalty of two per cent.; in November three per cent.; in December four per cent. Tax-payers are urged to procure bills in advance of dates of intended payments and, if possible, to make payments prior to the 25th of the month and thus avoid a possibility of inconvenience in the rush during the final days of the month and consequent liability to additional penalty.

DEATHS

BELL.—On October 8, 1914, ANNIE, wife of Lewis Bell, aged 60 years. Relatives and friends are invited to funeral on Saturday, October 10, at 10 a. m., from residence, 207 N. Jackson St., at Northwood Cemetery.

BURRIS.—On October 8, 1914, JAMES O. BURRIS, aged 22 years. Funeral services on Saturday, at 2:30 p. m., at 2215 Chestnut St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CAMPBELL.—On October 7, 1914, DANIEL CAMPBELL, aged 70 years. Funeral on Monday, at 8:30 a. m., from 1207 Pine St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CARMAN.—On October 8, 1914, FLORENCE CARMAN, aged 40 years. Funeral on Friday, at 2:30 p. m., from 241 Bond St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CHAPLONE.—GRACIOLO CHAPLONE, 71 years, 821 Montrose St. Funeral on Friday, at 2:30 p. m., from 821 Montrose St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CHORLEY.—On October 7, 1914, Miss MARGARET J. CHORLEY, aged 31 years. Funeral services at her late residence, 1901 North 10th St., on Monday morning, at 11 o'clock. Interment private.

CLARK.—LUCY CLARK, 55 years, 1114 S. CLEMENTS.—Suddenly, on October 7, 1914, CATHARINE, wife of Reuben Clements, died at her late residence, 207 N. 10th St., at 11 a. m., from 207 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CROUCH.—On October 7, 1914, THOMAS CROUCH, aged 74 years. Funeral on Saturday, at 10 a. m., from 2224 North Franklin St., at Northwood Cemetery.

DEBART.—On October 7, 1914, C. ELIZABETH, wife of Andrew J. DeBart, died at the chapel of Andrew J. DeBart & Sons, 1015 N. 10th St., at 11 a. m., from 1015 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

DI MARTINO.—HELENA DI MARTINO, 13 years, 2707 Berks St., at Northwood Cemetery.

DOAN.—On October 6, 1914, ELLEN AGNES DOAN, widow of Michael Doan, died at her late residence, 2707 Berks St., at 11 a. m., from 2707 Berks St., at Northwood Cemetery.

EDGEMONT.—On October 7, 1914, CLARA COOPER, sole surviving daughter of Benjamin C. and Lavinia Cooper, entered into rest after a illness on the morning of October 8th, in her late residence, 1015 N. 10th St., at 11 a. m., from 1015 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

EVRE.—At Chicago, on October 7, 1914, FARELL EVRE, husband of the late Bridget Farrell, died at his late residence, 1015 N. 10th St., at 11 a. m., from 1015 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

FISHER.—On October 8, 1914, EMMA L. FISHER, aged 70 years. Funeral on Saturday, at 10 a. m., from 1015 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

FITZPATRICK.—On October 6, 1914, MARY FITZPATRICK, widow of William J. Fitzpatrick, died at her late residence, 1015 N. 10th St., at 11 a. m., from 1015 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

GALLAGHER.—On October 5, 1914, IRENE GALLAGHER, aged 29 years. Funeral on Saturday, at 2:30 p. m., from 1015 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

GIANNI.—On October 6, 1914, CHARINE GIANNI, daughter of William J. and Catharine were less demoralized than the French and drove them back at every point with heavy loss. A panic seized the Austrian army, and swelled into a rout. The French pressed the advantage, and the battle was a most decisive one to the French's forces. The Austrians lost 25,000 men killed, wounded and prisoners, 100 pieces of artillery and an immense number of wagons and stores of war. The loss of the French was 5000. The French were unable to follow up the victory by reason of the miserable roads, the deep snow and the short winter day. The result of this battle was the peace of Lunenburg.

In the battle of Hohenlinden Archduke John was completely outmatched in generalship by General Moreau, who, next to Napoleon, was the greatest French strategist, and a man for emergency. In the early morning the battle was viewed from a tower by Thomas Campbell, the Scotch poet, and he has given a vivid picture of the scene in his poem, "Battle of Hohenlinden," beginning, "On Linden when the sun was low."

It was one of the sad features of the Napoleonic regime that a mutual distrustfulness arose between Napoleon and Moreau, the hero of Hohenlinden, and easily his ablest general. As a result of the severe disagreement arising from the battle, Napoleon sought to reduce Moreau to disgrace. For the history of this unfortunate rupture, one must resort to the proper sources, as it cannot be gone into here, and does not properly belong to a connection like this. This much, however, may be said: It was one of the greatest blunders of Napoleon to have persecuted Moreau, who stands vindicated before the tribunal of history.

DEATHS (Continued) MISS LIONS' PRIVATE SCHOOL OF DANCING, 1710 Chestnut Street. Reopens Oct. 12th. Private lessons any hour. Dressing, manicure, massage, cards. Our Method, Our Experts, Our Pupils—all represent modern dancing as it should be taught. THE C. E. WOODS' STUDIO, 1123 CHESTNUT ST.

BEAUMER.—On October 8, 1914, ANNE J. BEAUMER, aged 40 years. Funeral on Friday, at 2:30 p. m., from 241 Bond St., at Northwood Cemetery.

BECK.—On October 6, 1914, WILLIAM BECK, aged 70 years. Funeral on Friday, at 2:30 p. m., from 241 Bond St., at Northwood Cemetery.

BURRIS.—On October 8, 1914, JAMES O. BURRIS, aged 22 years. Funeral services on Saturday, at 2:30 p. m., at 2215 Chestnut St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CAMPBELL.—On October 7, 1914, DANIEL CAMPBELL, aged 70 years. Funeral on Monday, at 8:30 a. m., from 1207 Pine St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CARMAN.—On October 8, 1914, FLORENCE CARMAN, aged 40 years. Funeral on Friday, at 2:30 p. m., from 241 Bond St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CHAPLONE.—GRACIOLO CHAPLONE, 71 years, 821 Montrose St. Funeral on Friday, at 2:30 p. m., from 821 Montrose St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CHORLEY.—On October 7, 1914, Miss MARGARET J. CHORLEY, aged 31 years. Funeral services at her late residence, 1901 North 10th St., on Monday morning, at 11 o'clock. Interment private.

CLARK.—LUCY CLARK, 55 years, 1114 S. CLEMENTS.—Suddenly, on October 7, 1914, CATHARINE, wife of Reuben Clements, died at her late residence, 207 N. 10th St., at 11 a. m., from 207 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CROUCH.—On October 7, 1914, THOMAS CROUCH, aged 74 years. Funeral on Saturday, at 10 a. m., from 2224 North Franklin St., at Northwood Cemetery.

DEBART.—On October 7, 1914, C. ELIZABETH, wife of Andrew J. DeBart, died at the chapel of Andrew J. DeBart & Sons, 1015 N. 10th St., at 11 a. m., from 1015 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

DI MARTINO.—HELENA DI MARTINO, 13 years, 2707 Berks St., at Northwood Cemetery.

DOAN.—On October 6, 1914, ELLEN AGNES DOAN, widow of Michael Doan, died at her late residence, 2707 Berks St., at 11 a. m., from 2707 Berks St., at Northwood Cemetery.

DEATHS

BELL.—On October 8, 1914, ANNIE, wife of Lewis Bell, aged 60 years. Relatives and friends are invited to funeral on Saturday, October 10, at 10 a. m., from residence, 207 N. Jackson St., at Northwood Cemetery.

BURRIS.—On October 8, 1914, JAMES O. BURRIS, aged 22 years. Funeral services on Saturday, at 2:30 p. m., at 2215 Chestnut St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CAMPBELL.—On October 7, 1914, DANIEL CAMPBELL, aged 70 years. Funeral on Monday, at 8:30 a. m., from 1207 Pine St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CARMAN.—On October 8, 1914, FLORENCE CARMAN, aged 40 years. Funeral on Friday, at 2:30 p. m., from 241 Bond St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CHAPLONE.—GRACIOLO CHAPLONE, 71 years, 821 Montrose St. Funeral on Friday, at 2:30 p. m., from 821 Montrose St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CHORLEY.—On October 7, 1914, Miss MARGARET J. CHORLEY, aged 31 years. Funeral services at her late residence, 1901 North 10th St., on Monday morning, at 11 o'clock. Interment private.

CLARK.—LUCY CLARK, 55 years, 1114 S. CLEMENTS.—Suddenly, on October 7, 1914, CATHARINE, wife of Reuben Clements, died at her late residence, 207 N. 10th St., at 11 a. m., from 207 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CROUCH.—On October 7, 1914, THOMAS CROUCH, aged 74 years. Funeral on Saturday, at 10 a. m., from 2224 North Franklin St., at Northwood Cemetery.

DEBART.—On October 7, 1914, C. ELIZABETH, wife of Andrew J. DeBart, died at the chapel of Andrew J. DeBart & Sons, 1015 N. 10th St., at 11 a. m., from 1015 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

DI MARTINO.—HELENA DI MARTINO, 13 years, 2707 Berks St., at Northwood Cemetery.

DOAN.—On October 6, 1914, ELLEN AGNES DOAN, widow of Michael Doan, died at her late residence, 2707 Berks St., at 11 a. m., from 2707 Berks St., at Northwood Cemetery.

EDGEMONT.—On October 7, 1914, CLARA COOPER, sole surviving daughter of Benjamin C. and Lavinia Cooper, entered into rest after a illness on the morning of October 8th, in her late residence, 1015 N. 10th St., at 11 a. m., from 1015 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

EVRE.—At Chicago, on October 7, 1914, FARELL EVRE, husband of the late Bridget Farrell, died at his late residence, 1015 N. 10th St., at 11 a. m., from 1015 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

FISHER.—On October 8, 1914, EMMA L. FISHER, aged 70 years. Funeral on Saturday, at 10 a. m., from 1015 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

FITZPATRICK.—On October 6, 1914, MARY FITZPATRICK, widow of William J. Fitzpatrick, died at her late residence, 1015 N. 10th St., at 11 a. m., from 1015 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

GALLAGHER.—On October 5, 1914, IRENE GALLAGHER, aged 29 years. Funeral on Saturday, at 2:30 p. m., from 1015 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

GIANNI.—On October 6, 1914, CHARINE GIANNI, daughter of William J. and Catharine were less demoralized than the French and drove them back at every point with heavy loss. A panic seized the Austrian army, and swelled into a rout. The French pressed the advantage, and the battle was a most decisive one to the French's forces. The Austrians lost 25,000 men killed, wounded and prisoners, 100 pieces of artillery and an immense number of wagons and stores of war. The loss of the French was 5000. The French were unable to follow up the victory by reason of the miserable roads, the deep snow and the short winter day. The result of this battle was the peace of Lunenburg.

In the battle of Hohenlinden Archduke John was completely outmatched in generalship by General Moreau, who, next to Napoleon, was the greatest French strategist, and a man for emergency. In the early morning the battle was viewed from a tower by Thomas Campbell, the Scotch poet, and he has given a vivid picture of the scene in his poem, "Battle of Hohenlinden," beginning, "On Linden when the sun was low."

It was one of the sad features of the Napoleonic regime that a mutual distrustfulness arose between Napoleon and Moreau, the hero of Hohenlinden, and easily his ablest general. As a result of the severe disagreement arising from the battle, Napoleon sought to reduce Moreau to disgrace. For the history of this unfortunate rupture, one must resort to the proper sources, as it cannot be gone into here, and does not properly belong to a connection like this. This much, however, may be said: It was one of the greatest blunders of Napoleon to have persecuted Moreau, who stands vindicated before the tribunal of history.

DEATHS (Continued) MISS LIONS' PRIVATE SCHOOL OF DANCING, 1710 Chestnut Street. Reopens Oct. 12th. Private lessons any hour. Dressing, manicure, massage, cards. Our Method, Our Experts, Our Pupils—all represent modern dancing as it should be taught. THE C. E. WOODS' STUDIO, 1123 CHESTNUT ST.

BEAUMER.—On October 8, 1914, ANNE J. BEAUMER, aged 40 years. Funeral on Friday, at 2:30 p. m., from 241 Bond St., at Northwood Cemetery.

BECK.—On October 6, 1914, WILLIAM BECK, aged 70 years. Funeral on Friday, at 2:30 p. m., from 241 Bond St., at Northwood Cemetery.

BURRIS.—On October 8, 1914, JAMES O. BURRIS, aged 22 years. Funeral services on Saturday, at 2:30 p. m., at 2215 Chestnut St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CAMPBELL.—On October 7, 1914, DANIEL CAMPBELL, aged 70 years. Funeral on Monday, at 8:30 a. m., from 1207 Pine St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CARMAN.—On October 8, 1914, FLORENCE CARMAN, aged 40 years. Funeral on Friday, at 2:30 p. m., from 241 Bond St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CHAPLONE.—GRACIOLO CHAPLONE, 71 years, 821 Montrose St. Funeral on Friday, at 2:30 p. m., from 821 Montrose St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CHORLEY.—On October 7, 1914, Miss MARGARET J. CHORLEY, aged 31 years. Funeral services at her late residence, 1901 North 10th St., on Monday morning, at 11 o'clock. Interment private.

CLARK.—LUCY CLARK, 55 years, 1114 S. CLEMENTS.—Suddenly, on October 7, 1914, CATHARINE, wife of Reuben Clements, died at her late residence, 207 N. 10th St., at 11 a. m., from 207 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CROUCH.—On October 7, 1914, THOMAS CROUCH, aged 74 years. Funeral on Saturday, at 10 a. m., from 2224 North Franklin St., at Northwood Cemetery.

DEBART.—On October 7, 1914, C. ELIZABETH, wife of Andrew J. DeBart, died at the chapel of Andrew J. DeBart & Sons, 1015 N. 10th St., at 11 a. m., from 1015 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

DI MARTINO.—HELENA DI MARTINO, 13 years, 2707 Berks St., at Northwood Cemetery.

DOAN.—On October 6, 1914, ELLEN AGNES DOAN, widow of Michael Doan, died at her late residence, 2707 Berks St., at 11 a. m., from 2707 Berks St., at Northwood Cemetery.

DEATHS

BELL.—On October 8, 1914, ANNIE, wife of Lewis Bell, aged 60 years. Relatives and friends are invited to funeral on Saturday, October 10, at 10 a. m., from residence, 207 N. Jackson St., at Northwood Cemetery.

BURRIS.—On October 8, 1914, JAMES O. BURRIS, aged 22 years. Funeral services on Saturday, at 2:30 p. m., at 2215 Chestnut St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CAMPBELL.—On October 7, 1914, DANIEL CAMPBELL, aged 70 years. Funeral on Monday, at 8:30 a. m., from 1207 Pine St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CARMAN.—On October 8, 1914, FLORENCE CARMAN, aged 40 years. Funeral on Friday, at 2:30 p. m., from 241 Bond St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CHAPLONE.—GRACIOLO CHAPLONE, 71 years, 821 Montrose St. Funeral on Friday, at 2:30 p. m., from 821 Montrose St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CHORLEY.—On October 7, 1914, Miss MARGARET J. CHORLEY, aged 31 years. Funeral services at her late residence, 1901 North 10th St., on Monday morning, at 11 o'clock. Interment private.

CLARK.—LUCY CLARK, 55 years, 1114 S. CLEMENTS.—Suddenly, on October 7, 1914, CATHARINE, wife of Reuben Clements, died at her late residence, 207 N. 10th St., at 11 a. m., from 207 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CROUCH.—On October 7, 1914, THOMAS CROUCH, aged 74 years. Funeral on Saturday, at 10 a. m., from 2224 North Franklin St., at Northwood Cemetery.

DEBART.—On October 7, 1914, C. ELIZABETH, wife of Andrew J. DeBart, died at the chapel of Andrew J. DeBart & Sons, 1015 N. 10th St., at 11 a. m., from 1015 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

DI MARTINO.—HELENA DI MARTINO, 13 years, 2707 Berks St., at Northwood Cemetery.

DOAN.—On October 6, 1914, ELLEN AGNES DOAN, widow of Michael Doan, died at her late residence, 2707 Berks St., at 11 a. m., from 2707 Berks St., at Northwood Cemetery.

EDGEMONT.—On October 7, 1914, CLARA COOPER, sole surviving daughter of Benjamin C. and Lavinia Cooper, entered into rest after a illness on the morning of October 8th, in her late residence, 1015 N. 10th St., at 11 a. m., from 1015 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

EVRE.—At Chicago, on October 7, 1914, FARELL EVRE, husband of the late Bridget Farrell, died at his late residence, 1015 N. 10th St., at 11 a. m., from 1015 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

FISHER.—On October 8, 1914, EMMA L. FISHER, aged 70 years. Funeral on Saturday, at 10 a. m., from 1015 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

FITZPATRICK.—On October 6, 1914, MARY FITZPATRICK, widow of William J. Fitzpatrick, died at her late residence, 1015 N. 10th St., at 11 a. m., from 1015 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

GALLAGHER.—On October 5, 1914, IRENE GALLAGHER, aged 29 years. Funeral on Saturday, at 2:30 p. m., from 1015 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

GIANNI.—On October 6, 1914, CHARINE GIANNI, daughter of William J. and Catharine were less demoralized than the French and drove them back at every point with heavy loss. A panic seized the Austrian army, and swelled into a rout. The French pressed the advantage, and the battle was a most decisive one to the French's forces. The Austrians lost 25,000 men killed, wounded and prisoners, 100 pieces of artillery and an immense number of wagons and stores of war. The loss of the French was 5000. The French were unable to follow up the victory by reason of the miserable roads, the deep snow and the short winter day. The result of this battle was the peace of Lunenburg.

In the battle of Hohenlinden Archduke John was completely outmatched in generalship by General Moreau, who, next to Napoleon, was the greatest French strategist, and a man for emergency. In the early morning the battle was viewed from a tower by Thomas Campbell, the Scotch poet, and he has given a vivid picture of the scene in his poem, "Battle of Hohenlinden," beginning, "On Linden when the sun was low."

It was one of the sad features of the Napoleonic regime that a mutual distrustfulness arose between Napoleon and Moreau, the hero of Hohenlinden, and easily his ablest general. As a result of the severe disagreement arising from the battle, Napoleon sought to reduce Moreau to disgrace. For the history of this unfortunate rupture, one must resort to the proper sources, as it cannot be gone into here, and does not properly belong to a connection like this. This much, however, may be said: It was one of the greatest blunders of Napoleon to have persecuted Moreau, who stands vindicated before the tribunal of history.

DEATHS (Continued) MISS LIONS' PRIVATE SCHOOL OF DANCING, 1710 Chestnut Street. Reopens Oct. 12th. Private lessons any hour. Dressing, manicure, massage, cards. Our Method, Our Experts, Our Pupils—all represent modern dancing as it should be taught. THE C. E. WOODS' STUDIO, 1123 CHESTNUT ST.

BEAUMER.—On October 8, 1914, ANNE J. BEAUMER, aged 40 years. Funeral on Friday, at 2:30 p. m., from 241 Bond St., at Northwood Cemetery.

BECK.—On October 6, 1914, WILLIAM BECK, aged 70 years. Funeral on Friday, at 2:30 p. m., from 241 Bond St., at Northwood Cemetery.

BURRIS.—On October 8, 1914, JAMES O. BURRIS, aged 22 years. Funeral services on Saturday, at 2:30 p. m., at 2215 Chestnut St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CAMPBELL.—On October 7, 1914, DANIEL CAMPBELL, aged 70 years. Funeral on Monday, at 8:30 a. m., from 1207 Pine St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CARMAN.—On October 8, 1914, FLORENCE CARMAN, aged 40 years. Funeral on Friday, at 2:30 p. m., from 241 Bond St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CHAPLONE.—GRACIOLO CHAPLONE, 71 years, 821 Montrose St. Funeral on Friday, at 2:30 p. m., from 821 Montrose St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CHORLEY.—On October 7, 1914, Miss MARGARET J. CHORLEY, aged 31 years. Funeral services at her late residence, 1901 North 10th St., on Monday morning, at 11 o'clock. Interment private.

CLARK.—LUCY CLARK, 55 years, 1114 S. CLEMENTS.—Suddenly, on October 7, 1914, CATHARINE, wife of Reuben Clements, died at her late residence, 207 N. 10th St., at 11 a. m., from 207 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CROUCH.—On October 7, 1914, THOMAS CROUCH, aged 74 years. Funeral on Saturday, at 10 a. m., from 2224 North Franklin St., at Northwood Cemetery.

DEBART.—On October 7, 1914, C. ELIZABETH, wife of Andrew J. DeBart, died at the chapel of Andrew J. DeBart & Sons, 1015 N. 10th St., at 11 a. m., from 1015 N. 10th St., at Northwood Cemetery.

DI MARTINO.—HELENA DI MARTINO, 13 years, 2707 Berks St., at Northwood Cemetery.

DOAN.—On October 6, 1914, ELLEN AGNES DOAN, widow of Michael Doan, died at her late residence, 2707 Berks St., at 11 a. m., from 2707 Berks St., at Northwood Cemetery.

DEATHS

BELL.—On October 8, 1914, ANNIE, wife of Lewis Bell, aged 60 years. Relatives and friends are invited to funeral on Saturday, October 10, at 10 a. m., from residence, 207 N. Jackson St., at Northwood Cemetery.

BURRIS.—On October 8, 1914, JAMES O. BURRIS, aged 22 years. Funeral services on Saturday, at 2:30 p. m., at 2215 Chestnut St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CAMPBELL.—On October 7, 1914, DANIEL CAMPBELL, aged 70 years. Funeral on Monday, at 8:30 a. m., from 1207 Pine St., at Northwood Cemetery.

CARM